Bangers

Specialty Ethnic

Knockwurst – One of the great German sausages, an authentic blend of pork and beef with a hint of garlic. Hearty in flavor, short and thick and string tied, they are a year-round favorite in soups and country dishes.

Andouille – A spicy, lean smoked sausage of French origin known primarily for its use in Cajun cuisine such as Bayou hash, gumbo, jambalaya, red beans & rice, and paella. It is an extremely versatile sausage since it is used as a main ingredient, a flavoring, or as a method to add color and background to a variety of dishes.

Bangers – Traditional Irish sausage that combines pork, spices and cracker crumbs. Mild in flavor, it's typically served at breakfast, or alongside root vegetables, or in the entrée, Bangers & Mash. Excellent item for brew pubs.

Linguica – Smoked Portuguese sausage mildly seasoned with a touch of garlic. Adds a distinctive flavor to appetizers, bean and pasta dishes, stews and casseroles.
